DEBATE CONTINUED.

The Silver Question Occupies the Time in the House.

MANY SPEECHES BEING MADE.

Another Large Audience to Hear the Views of the Different Congressmen on the One Leading Question of the Day. A Vote to Be Taken on the Bill Today.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The galleries of the house of congress were again crowded to hear the debate on the leading question of the day—the Bland silver bill. During the morning hour a number of committees made reports, but none of special importance.

Mr. Outhwaite, of Ohio, introduced a bill to repeal the section of a law passed in 1870 which provides that no officer shall be entitled to wear, while on duty, any uniform other than that of his actual rank on account of having been brevetted, nor shall he be addressed in orders or official communications by any other title than that of his official rank.

Mr. W. M. Stone, of Pennsylvania, offered a bill increasing to $385,000 the limit of cost of the public building at Allegheny, Pa.

Mr. Clover, of Kansas, by request introduced a bill to amend the national banking laws, to extend their provisions to the benefit of the whole people, to provide the people with a flexible and sound circulating medium of exchange so governed in amount that it shall always be the natural laws of supply and demand.

Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, offered a bill appropriating $50,000 to enable the secretary of war to cause a survey of a route for a ship canal to connect the waters of Lake Erie and the Ohio river at or near Erie, Pa.

The silver debate was then resumed Mr. Pierce, of Tennessee, being the first speaker. He said that the hour was now at hand when the people would ask from congress that the wrong done in 1873 be undone, and that justice be done them. Will the representatives of the American people deny this to the laboring classes of America?

There were two roads, one leading to honor, principle and right—the other to dishonor and destruction, and the former was the pathway which should be followed by the free coinage men.

There was no reason for the demonetization of silver in 1873. From 1784 to 1873 the silver was never less than one hundred cents. Why demonetize it? By the act of 1873 silver was murdered in the interests of the great banking and financial interests of the world, and agriculture and labor have paid the forfeit by their sweat and toil. Should this thing go on? Have the laboring men no rights to be respected by capital? Upon the side of the people, the Democratic party had ever been planted. They would advocate honest money, an honest dollar and nothing less.

It was by act of law that the dollar was made dishonest, and it is by such operation that it should be made honest. Political economists on both sides admit that gold has appreciated and not that silver has depreciated. Silver has ever been the money of the common people measured in the price of commodities. It has never fallen, but has kept pace with the products of nature from the time the morning stars sang together until now. Why should we go back? We should rehabilitate it under the law, as under the law it had suffered.

In conclusion he said: "I want to say to you, gentlemen from New England, that the same brave, glorious and honorable men stand there today as a bulwark between the Republican party and the interests of the American people as stood against the force bill. We do not fear any force bill. We have no fears of anything of the kind. But we demand that this house shall give to the people of the United States full measure of redress for the wrong done by the demonetization of silver in 1873."

Mr. C. W. Stone, of Pennsylvania, opposed the measure and paid his respects to Mr. Williams, of Massachusetts, who assumed the leadership in opposition to the bill. So far as he (Mr. Williams) represented himself and the sentiments of his constituents he (Mr. Stone) would say nothing, but when he assumed to represent the Democratic party and ally it to the opposition to this bill, or to speak for the Republican party, he would dissent. The Democratic party was not opposed to this bill. There was nothing in its traditions, affiliations, or instincts that would array it in opposition to this bill. When greenbacks were issued, the Democratic party opposed them. When the redemption of the greenback was necessary to the honor of the nation, and when the stability of the financial system is necessary for the continued prosperity of the country, the Democratic party assailed it. The views of the Democratic party on this question were the views of the gentleman from Missouri, Mr. Bland, and from Tennessee, Mr. Pierce, and not the views of the gentleman of Massachusetts, Mr. Williams. The bill was not for the free coinage of silver, but provided for the unlimited purchase of silver bullion and the issue of paper money therefor.

At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Bland, of Missouri, said as there were so many members who desired to speak on the bill he moved that the pending order be extended until 6 o'clock on Friday. Mr. Stone, of Kentucky, objected and several attempts were made to induce him to withdraw his objection. Mr. Stone finally yielded, but Mr. Simpson, Farmers' Alliance, of Georgia, renewed the objection. Mr. Bland then said he would call the previous question Thursday at 2:30 p.m. Mr. Tracey, of New York, being recognized yielded to Mr. Warner, who said that as an alleged free coinage bill it appealed to his sympathy. He did not object to the free coinage as such, but he opposed the undemocratic theory of the forced coinage of silver. This interfered with the personal rights of citizens, and he would oppose it.

Mr. Brawley, of South Carolina, opposed the bill because the ratio fixed in it was not the ratio fixed by the markets of the world, as Jefferson and Hamilton both said it should be. This was, as Jefferson said it should be, a purely business question, and the ratio should be fixed by the ratio of relative prices of the two metals. "We, of the south, have but one product to sell, cotton. The greater part of it is exported and brings gold of international value. Why should we sell it for silver, money of only local value?"

Mr. Lynch, of Wisconsin, Democrat, said that until the coin mentioned in the bill made a dollar equal to any other dollar in the world it would not be a success.

Mr. Hall, of Minnesota, said the free coinage men said the ultimate effect of this law would be that millions of dollars would eventually meet parity; that silver would go up or gold would go down, until they should come together in loving embrace; but when was this time coming? Some time in the dim and distant future. How about the meantime?

Mr. Stont, of Michigan, Democrat, opposed the bill in a brief speech.

Mr. Fitch, of New York, being pressed for time, presented a petition from the chamber of commerce of New York in favor of the maintenance of the standard value of silver as now established, by law, which he said voiced his sentiments. The public spirit of the city of New York developed this whole country, and that city never had any interests adverse to the rest of the country. Her prosperity was that of the entire country.

Mr. McKeighan, of Nebraska, one of the independents in the house, said the clamor of the opponents of the bill smacked of the odor of the banking house. There was no flavor of the sailor or the harvest fielder in their position. The pretense that silver payments is partial repudiation, only seventy cents on a dollar is a linguistic departure, an assault on the dictionary.

Mr. Bushnell, Democrat, of Wisconsin, opposed the measure and submitted an amendment, providing that hereafter a silver dollar should contain one ounce Troy of pure silver.

Mr. Beltshoover, of Pennsylvania, said that Bland was a violent free trader in all other respects in order to protect himself, and he (Bland) proposed to erect a Chinese wall between this and other countries on the silver question.

Mr. Lodge followed in a speech against the bill. It struck at the wages of the laboring classes and therefore was a great injustice toward them. The creditor class was the great wage earning class. The borrowing class was composed of capitalists, corporations and railroads. He opposed the bill on the ground that it would bring a derangement of values, put up gold, destroy business confidences and would be a great injustice to the working classes in the United States.

At the conclusion of Mr. Lodge's remarks the house took a recess until 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Coombs, of New York, opened the debate at the evening session, and spoke in opposition to the bill. He opposed any measure which would control our own commerce without respect to the commerce of any other country. The bill proposed to cut the United States loose on the unit of value, and to start out upon an independent course. We could not coerce the world to adopt our standard.

Mr. Bacon, of New York, opposed the measure. He especially opposed the section which authorized the president of the United States to change, by proclamation, the ratio so that the standard silver dollar, instead of consisting of 412 1/2 grains, should contain 400. In commenting on this he reverts to the reciprocity feature of the McKinley bill, which was a sham and a fraud, and has been denounced by Democrats in their conventions and their campaigns. He argued that the same section of the constitution, which provided that congress should have power to lay and collect taxes also provided that congress should have the power to coin money and regulate the value thereof. In his opinion this section of the bill was subject to the same denunciation as the so-called reciprocity amendment.

Mr. Chapin, of New York, in opposing the bill, said it was intended to benefit the silver producing industry, or to expand the currency. If for the former, it might be entitled to consideration. If for the latter, it should not, unless it could be shown that the currency to be expanded was the best obtainable. This it did not do, and he was opposed to it. The bill was a delusion.

Mr. Livingston, Farmers' Alliance, of Georgia, said that everything thus far spoken on this bill was prophecy. Branching from the question, he said that class legislation had brought all the trouble on the country. We should return to constitutional government and Jeffersonian Democracy for relief. The country would then be prosperous and peaceful. Silver had not depreciated, but gold had appreciated. The country was controlled by the gold bugs of this country and Europe.

Mr. Hayes, of Iowa, opposed the bill and said that the purpose of the party in forcing the measure at this time was suicidal in the extreme, and the most obnoxious incident in connection with this question was the attempt of the Republicans to put the Democrats in a dilemma.

Mr. Geisenhainer, Democrat, of New Jersey, opposed the bill and said that a depreciation of thirty cents on the dollar by an act of congress was unworthy of the American people.

Mr. Bunting, Democrat, of New York, opposed the measure and was followed by Mr. Layton, of Ohio, who spoke in favor of the measure.

ENGLAND'S SCHEME.

Startling Revelation in the Behring Sea Affair.

A CIVIL ENGINEER'S STORY.

The English Government to Seize the Harbor of San Quentin, in Lower California, for Coal Station in Case of Trouble Between the United States and Great Britain.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—The threatened trouble with Great Britain over the Behring sea makes interesting the revelation of Charles E. Anthony, a civil engineer, who recently reached San Diego from Lower California. Anthony claims to have proof of a plan of the English government to seize the harbor of San Quentin, Lower California, for a coal station, and he gives new facts in regard to the scheme which may be carried out. He says:

"All the railroad building and irrigation works planned by the Mexican International company are simply a blind to cover the plans of the English government to secure a coal station in Lower California, as, in the event of the completion of Nicaragua canal, it will be necessary for the English to have a base of supplies somewhere between the Pacific entrance to the canal and British Columbia.

"All the work about Ensenada is a mere farce. Blaine has several times been warned of the intrigues of this international company and he has sent a special agent to watch it. The final resort of the company in case all other plans fail, is to surrender its concession of 18,000,000 acres and demand of the Mexican government as compensation the cession of San Quentin and the surrounding land. This now seems to be the plan that will be followed."

DELVING FOR THE DEAD.

Miners' Bodies Recovered After Twenty-One Months' Search.

PITTSBURG, March 24.—The mystery of the death of the thirty-one miners in the Hill Farm mine is being solved and the dead are being delivered from the tomb of death. It was on June 16, 1890, that the fatal explosion took place.

A number of the miners escaped, but thirty-one were locked in by the fire and falling coal. The Dunbar Furnace company since then has had a force of men at work putting out the fire, pumping out the water and trying to rescue the dead.

After twenty-one months of ceaseless searching the rescuing party found the first body at 4:30 yesterday afternoon. The bodies were found in flat No. 9. The flat was dry and the bodies of the men lay close together near the entrance.

Only one of the twenty-three bodies found was identified. That was little John Devany, aged thirteen. The bodies were in a pretty fair state of preservation.

The remaining eight bodies will likely be recovered tomorrow.

Three Dead Bodies Found.

BRAZORIA, Tex., March 24.—All the lower coast country is stirred up over the finding of the bodies of three persons horribly mutilated and each of them bearing marks of foul play. The bodies were found in the Bernard river. Two of them were men and one a boy aged about sixteen. On the body of one was found a letter addressed to S. G. Gray. The party was seen about ten days ago, accompanied by two Mexicans who acted as guides, prospecting overland. It is thought the prospectors were murdered by their guides. Men are searching for the suspects, and it will go hard with them if found.

More Flour Starts for Russia.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 24.—One hundred and seventy-five cars of flour, containing 28,000 barrels, were sent out in eight sections yesterday by the Washburn-Crosby company mills to the Russian Relief Association, of Philadelphia. The association bought this flour for Russia. The trains were gaily decorated with flags, bunting and mottoes. They will run into Philadelphia in one section if possible, pulled by eight engines. A great reception will be given it when it arrives at its destination. The steamer Couemaugh will carry it to Russia.

Sugar Beet Culture in Colorado.

DENVER, March 24.—About 300 delegates from the outlying counties and adjoining states met in the chamber of commerce building yesterday and discussed the question of beet culture and the manufacture of beet sugar. Some steps will be taken looking to the introduction and establishment of the industry this season in certain sections of Colorado. The manufactory will probably be located in Denver.

Fifteen Lady Suicides.

KENT, O., March 24.—May Fessenden, a young lady twenty-one years of age and a member of one of the best families in this city, committed suicide yesterday by shooting herself through the heart. She was highly educated, accomplished and prominent socially. No cause is known for her action.

Town Devastated by Fire.

BERLIN, March 24.—The little town of Immenhausen, in Hesse Nassau, about nine miles from Cassel, has been devastated by fire and a great part of the town laid in ashes. The fire destroyed no less than one hundred houses, and of the population, more than 1,000, several hundred are homeless.

Cow With Hydrocephalus.

BRAZIL, Ind., March 24.—A cow belonging to James Orman, of Center Point, was seized with hydrocephalus, and she cavorted wildly about the street, attacking every person whom she met. For a time she was in possession of the streets of the little village, and it was not until her body was fairly riddled with bullets did she succumb.

BIG TEMPERANCE HOTEL.

One to be Built at Harvey, Ills., for World's Fair Visitors.

CHICAGO, March 24.—Temperance people from all over the world, who will come here next year to view the wonders of the Columbian exposition, are to be housed in the biggest temperance hotel that the globe has ever seen, or probably ever will see. It is to be located at Harvey, Ills., a few miles south of the location of the exposition, and ground will be broken in a few days. According to the present plans it is to have 5,000 rooms, but it is possible that this capacity will be made half as large again.

The money end of the enterprise is in the hands of wealthy Prohibitionists, representing nearly every state and territory in the country, and the executive representative is Rev. Walter Thomas Mills, well known among temperance people as the Little Giant, formerly of Ohio, but now located in this city. The concern is to be run on the European plan and the rate fifty cents each per night for four persons in a room, $1 each for two persons, and single rooms, $1.50, has been adopted.

DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The members of the Mason County Democratic Executive Committee are respectfully requested to meet at the office of the Chairman, corner of Third and Sutton streets, Saturday, March 26th, at 2 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of determining the time and manner of nominating candidates for Sheriff and Circuit Court Clerk, for Mason County. J. N. KEHOE, Chairman.

G. W. ROGERS, Secretary.

THE BULLETIN is in favor of ex-Governor Buckner and Governor Brown as two of the delegates-at-large to the Chicago convention.

THE Chester County district in Pennsylvania has elected a delegate to the Chicago convention and instructed for Cleveland.

If the Democrats of forty-three States go to Chicago and say Cleveland is our choice for President, what will the New York fellows do?

SOME people never know when they have enough, and Thayer, the Republican usurper of Nebraska, belongs to that class. The Supreme Court of the land has ruled against him, but he wants to re-open his contest for the Governorship.

COLONEL SAN MCKEE has at last gotten clear of that charge of embezzlement which has been hanging over his head since he was Pension Agent in 1870. It is claimed that members of his own party instigated the prosecution against him. How these Republicans do hate each other when they fall out.

The Ohio Legislators are a set of bungling lawmakers. A week or so ago they amended the Australian ballot system, passed by the previous General Assembly, so that it does not apply to villages under 3,500 population and to townships. It is now discovered that this class of villages and the townships are without any election law whatever.

THE bill now pending in the Legislature to provide for an exhibit at the World's Fair calls for the appointment of eight persons to take charge of and manage it. There are already 200 applicants for these eight places, some preachers among the number. What a happy set of people we Americans would be if we could all get a nice fat office, with big pay and little work!

LET'S see. Birmingham is one of the places Senator Hill stopped at when he was on his Southern trip a few days ago. At a Democratic mass meeting there this week, resolutions were adopted indorsing Cleveland and asking that Cleveland delegates be sent to the National convention. A special says the speakers put down Hill as an able party worker, but "not big enough for President." It is presumed, of course, that they took his measure the other day.

With one or two exceptions, perhaps, not a single county Democratic committee in Kentucky will order the approaching precinct meetings to be held at 6 p.m., the hour suggested by the State Executive Committee. And hardly a single County Executive Committee will meet at 6 p.m. on May 7th, although the State committee says they shall. The State committee seems to have overlooked the fact that most of the members of county committees have to travel ten or twelve miles to attend a meeting.

THE State Democratic Executive Committee says in its call: "Each county and each City Legislative District Committee shall be convened by its Chairman or Secretary at 6 o'clock p.m. on the 7th day of May and arrange for carrying into effect these instructions." What are the county committees going to do with this edict? It looks like the State Committee should exercise a little judgment and plain common sense in issuing calls hereafter. That banquet spread for the members, by the Chairman of the meeting a few evenings since, seems to have befuddled the whole crowd.

HON. T. F. HALLAM, of Covington, sarcastically suggests that an act be introduced in the Legislature "to incorporate an association to be known as the Perpetual Association of Kentucky Delegates to National Conventions, and to give directors in the same power to fill vacancies, and to declare Henry Watterson, W. C. P. Breckinridge and Jim McKenziedirectors." Perhaps "Mister" Hallam wants a position on the delegation. There is a fine field from which to choose our delegates-at-large to the National Convention, and the rank and file of the State would seriously object to such an association.

For the Farmer.

The damage to the fruit crop in Texas last week by the sleet and snow is placed at nearly $2,000,000.

Do without fences wherever it is possible. A fence is a costly luxury, as it is useless unless kept in repair.

The value of the live stock and farm products of Kansas in 1891 amounted to $170,000,000 in round numbers, the year having proved the most prosperous in the history of that State.

In Woodford County, last week, T. M. Parrish sold for himself and tenants a crop of tobacco grown on one hundred and thirty acres, aggregating 200,000 pounds. The average price was 9½ cents per pound.

John Irvin, a tenant on Herbert Wilson's farm in Wilson's Bottom, realized $1,015 from six and one-half acres of tobacco, grown last year. The crop brought 9½ cents per pound. It was bought by J. C. Owens & Co., of this city. Two years ago Mr. Wilson got $532 rent for the same land, the crop being grown then on the shares.

Scientists say now that snow is one of the best fertilizers that the agriculturists can have, and go so far as to call it the "poor man's manure." They explain by saying that the snow brings down from the atmosphere certain constituents so volatile that they do not reach the earth in any other way. They are absorbed by the snow flakes and are brought to the earth in this manner. If such is the case, everybody can rejoice at the late unprecedented snow fall.—Danville Advocate.

The Gerhold-Dawson Nuptials.

There was a very pretty wedding at the Christian Church yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, the contracting parties being Mr. Daniel Gerhold, of Cincinnati, and Miss Lutie Dawson, of this city. As usual on such happy occasions, a large crowd was present. The pastor of the church, Rev. C. S. Lucas, officiated, and the attendants were Mr. John Bode and Miss Georgia Arn. Mrs. Pease presided at the organ.

The bride is a very pretty blonde, and was attired in a neat costume of grey Bedford cord. She is a daughter of Mr. Larmon Dawson. The groom is a clerk in the establishment of the Cincinnati Tin and Japan Company. The couple left shortly after the ceremony for their future home in the Queen City.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The McCain Tobacco Bill Discussed. Salaries Paid Some State Officials.

The bill making travel on turnpikes free to ministers, children going to and from school, persons going to church &c. was the first matter discussed yesterday. No vote was reached as the discussion was cut off by the McCain Tobacco bill, a special order.

An amendment was offered to the McCain bill fixing a penalty of from $50 to $200 for a violation of some of its provisions. Another amendment proposed to repeal the special privileges of the Louisville Tobacco Exchange. These amendments brought out a lively discussion. They were strongly opposed, especially the latter. The debate was cut off by another special order of the day, before a vote was reached. It is the opinion that the bill will pass as it came from the Senate.

A report from the Auditor was read, in response to the House resolution requesting information as to all salaries paid State officials and if any were paid without warrant of law. The report shows a janitor, elevator boy and policeman for the capital buildings whose pay is not provided for by statutory enactment, but who are paid upon the decision of the Attorney General. The salaries of these amount to $1,320 per annum. The report shows also 41 guards at the two penitentiaries, paid $720 each per annum.

The act prescribing the powers and duties of the Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics, and carrying appropriations of $15,000, was passed unanimously.

The bill to compensate Circuit Court Clerks for doing extra work on transfer of cases from other counties, was reported with expression of opinion that it should not pass.

Section 30, Article 3, of the Election bill, as adopted by the Senate, reads as follows:

Any elector who declares that, by reason of physical disability or inability to read the English language, he is unable to mark his ballot, may declare his choice of candidates to the clerk, who, in the presence of the elector and in the presence of the judges, shall prepare the ballot for voting in the manner hereinbefore provided, and on request shall read over to each elector the names of the candidates as marked; and no election officer or challenger shall thereafter give any information in regard thereto. Any one making a false declaration under the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction, be fined in any sum not exceeding $50, and be disfranchised for a period of five years, and any elector who shall deceive any elector in marking any ballot, or mark the same in any other way than as requested by said elector, shall be guilty of felony, and, upon conviction, shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary for not less than two nor more than five years, and be disfranchised for any determinate period not less than five years.

The Maysville Futurity.

Secretary Fitzgerald, of the Maysville Fair Company, reports eighty-five entries for the Maysville futurity. The race will be trotted in August, 1894, and the purse is $7,777. The entries come from Maine, California, Iowa, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee. Some of the greatest stallions in the land will be represented in this race.

Near Washington, Penn., People

Are not slow about taking hold of a new thing, if the article has merit. A few months ago D. Byers, of that place, bought his first stock of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sold it all and ordered more. He says: "It has given the best of satisfaction. I have warranted every bottle, and have not had one to come back." Twenty-five-cent, 50-cent and $1 bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

His Conscience Hurt Him.

The day the Magnolia blew up—twenty-four years ago Friday, March 18th, a man went into Wilson's store at Minerva and purchased one dollar's worth of groceries. He handed Mr. Wilson a two-dollar bill and by mistake Mr. W. gave him two one-dollar bills in change. Nothing was said about the matter until last week when the purchaser walked into the store and handed Mr. Wilson's son a dollar bill, claiming he owed it to him, and explained the transaction. The man resides in Dover.—Ripley Bee.

A Successful Career.

Says the Jackson Hustler: "Judge A. E. Cole, of Maysville, was here Tuesday and Wednesday, March 15th and 16th, making acquaintances and looking after the Appellate Judgeship. He made a good impression. Judge Cole has been in office for twenty-six years, and yet is not over fifty-one years of age. He served eight years as County Attorney for Fleming county; six years as Commonwealth's Attorney and nearly twelve years as Circuit Judge. He has had a remarkably successful career. He is a Christian gentleman, a man of fine ability, and would adorn the position he seeks."

Mr. JOHN D. TAYLOR and his niece, Miss Alice Gill, who have been dangerously ill for several days with malarial fever were both somewhat better this morning.

MR. HARRY STEVENSON has not located permanently in Madisonville as stated last week. He was only there on a visit to relatives and has returned to Aberdeen.—Gretta Green.

A FAMILY named Waggoner, who resided in Maysville years ago, had a representative here Tuesday night, one of the daughters being the leading lady in the Paris Gaiety Girls Company.

Owing to the continued illness of Rev. Father Hickey, Rev. Father Gorey, of Covington, has taken charge of the Catholic Church at Mayslick. He will also look after the churches at Flemingsburg and Carlisle.

BALLINGER, the jeweler, has secured more commodious quarters just east of Mitchell, Finch & Co.'s Bank, and will move into the new store soon. In the meantime you can secure anything in the jewelry line at his old stand.

LANE & WORICK have twenty-five men employed on the Maysville Carriage Company's new three-story brick building in the rear of the company's present quarters. If the weather continues favorable, the building will be under roof within two weeks.

The funeral of Royal Dora will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon, instead of at 2 as announced yesterday. Rev. J. E. Wright will officiate, and the hour was changed on account of his having to officiate at the funeral of Mrs. Jacob Trapp at 2 o'clock.

LEVI KAIN was fined $25 and costs yesterday by Mayor Pearce for carrying concealed a deadly weapon. Kain is blind, and the officers have been allowing him to have his own way pretty much. Of late, however, he has been making a good many threats. A pistol was found in his pocket yesterday while he was sitting in the Mayor's office.

The Keith-Schroeder-Harness Company sold a lot of goods yesterday to a Pittsburgh party. In the shipment is one of the finest sets of harness ever sent out of Maysville. The company reports a big trade. Sixteen workmen are employed now. The company can't keep up with the orders for the stallion shield invented by Mr. Jas. W. Fitzgerald.

MR. JAMES A. SCUDER, a former typist in the BULLETIN office, was a passenger on the O. and M. train that was wrecked at Odlin, Ill., yesterday, but fortunately he escaped with only a sprained hand. Nineteen people were injured, some of them fatally. Mr. Scudder is a traveling man, his home being at Terra Haute, Ind. He is a brother of Mr. Arch Scudder, the express messenger.

HAVING closed out their stoves and tinware, W. L. Thomas & Bro. have moved their stock of queensware and glassware into the store room on Court street immediately at the rear of the old store. They are offering these goods at prices never before offered, and are anxious to close them out as soon as possible. Parties owing the firm will confer a favor by calling and settling their accounts. dtf

DR. W. T. HORN, formerly of this city and who has many relatives in Maysville and Mason County, stands an excellent show of being appointed to the position of Chief of the Bureau of Medicine, to succeed Surgeon General J. M. Brown, whose term expires April 2. The Washington correspondent of the Louisville Times says: "Dr. Hord is the oldest medical officer in the navy, having seen thirty-eight years' service. He is to be relieved in March next, and would hold the place but a year. He outranks in seniority of service all the applicants. He is not formally seeking the honor."

THE River and Harbor bill as agreed on by the committee in the National House of Representatives contains an appropriation of $50,000 for the improvement of the Big Sandy, and $5,000 for the annual maintenance of the Louisa Fork and Tug Fork of that stream. The Courier-Journal's correspondent says: "Representative Paynter is disappointed because the committee did not give $75,000 for the Big Sandy, the amount recommended by the Board of Engineers for the completion of the work. Mr. Paynter says he will make a fight in the House to have the appropriation increased, as it is of great importance to the people in his section of the country that the dam at Louisa be completed as soon as possible, and the $75,000 will do it. If he fails to get the increase in the House he will make an effort to secure favorable consideration in the shape of an amendment in the Senate."

DANGEROUS NAVIGATION.

Two Collisions Between Vessels in New York Harbor.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The rivers and bays were covered yesterday afternoon with a thick fog, rendering navigation exceedingly dangerous. Notwithstanding that pilots ran their vessels at greatly reduced speed and with much care, two collisions occurred, in which several vessels engaged were badly damaged, but no person, fortunately, was killed.

The first collision occurred in the North river between the ferryboats, Princeton, of the Pennsylvania Ferry company, and Susquehanna, of the Pavonia Ferry company. The Susquehanna ran head on into the side of the Princeton, crushing in the forward ladies' cabin and scattered the debris in all directions over the numerous passengers, especially those on the Princeton. No one, however, was seriously injured.

The Princeton proceeded to her dock in Jersey City, where she has been laid up for repairs. The Susquehanna, which sustained but slight damage, went on her way to New York and escaped by a few inches, only, another collision with the ferryboat Orange, before she reached her dock.

Another collision occurred between the ferryboat Whitehall and the Governor's Island propeller Atlantic in the East river a little later in the afternoon. The Atlantic had her bows crushed in and sustained other serious damages, while the Whitehall had a portion of her rail carried away. One passenger of the ferryboat was slightly injured.

THE PROFIT WAS SMALL,
But the Swindle Was Sure and the Victims Many.

LIMA, O., March 24.—Men to the number of over one hundred are searching for William Fauple, who swindled them out of amounts ranging from $2 to $3.50. The amounts are small, but judging of the number who have shown up it is safe to say that the number really victimized is between 200 and 300, making the aggregate in the neighborhood of $600. Fauple came here from Kentucky several weeks ago and advertised for workmen on the Great Northern railway in Montana at $3 and $4 per day.

He had a large number of applicants, each of whom advanced the amounts asked as a guarantee that they could depend upon to go. Their railroad fare was to be advanced and taken out of their first month's pay and the amount advanced to Fauple to be credited. Fauple visited surrounding counties and his victims reach several hundred. The men were to meet here and go in a body, but Fauple is missing, he having packed his valise and skipped town on last Friday night. An effort will be made to capture him.

WITH A BIG GUN.
A Sick Attorney Ends His Existence at Hot Springs, Ark.

HOT SPRINGS, March 24.—Henry E. Barkerdale, city attorney of Danville, Va., committed suicide in his room at the Arlington hotel yesterday by shooting himself through the right temple. He came here on Feb. 10 for the benefit of his health and it is presumed that he grew despondent at not getting well as soon as he thought. He therefore decided to end his existence.

The unfortunate man did not leave any writing or any other evidence that would lead to the discovery of the motives for his rash act. When found he was lying on the bed dead, with a bullet hole in the right temple and a 38-caliber revolver clinched in his right hand. He has a brother and other relatives in Danville, who have been notified of his death.

OUR FINANCES ALL RIGHT.

Secretary Foster's Statements About the Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Secretary Foster said in discussing the condition of the treasury that there was nearly always $24,000,000 in disbursing officers' hands, and that was practically current funds for while the treasurer's balance might show only a net balance of $30,000,000 the subsidiary silver and money in national banks actually took the place of money in the hands of disbursing officers, leaving at all times $31,000,000 available funds over and above the $100,000,000 gold reserve.

Counting the $23,000,000 in subsidiary silver and the government money in national banks the total available assets, exclusive of the $100,000,000 gold reserve, would be $84,000,000, rather a comfortable sum for a rainy day.

How Evans Would Have Acted.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 24.—The cruiser Yorktown entered the harbor Tuesday and cast anchor, having come direct to San Diego from Callao, which port she left March 4. She left for San Francisco Wednesday. Commander Evans states that the cruiser Boston is also on her way up, but is stopping at all Central American and Mexican ports, and is expected to arrive here within five or six days. Captain Evans said the assault on the Baltimore sailors was a dastardly outrage on American citizens. In referring to the Baltimore episode he said: "Had my men been assaulted I should have opened fire on Chin."

Collision at a Crossing.

ST. LOUIS, March 24.—Tuesday night at 10:30, at Odlin Junction, Ills., a freight on the Illinois Central crashed into the second coach on the Ohio and Mississippi eastbound passenger, cutting the coach completely in twain. Four passengers were seriously injured and about a dozen slightly. The engineer of the freight train saw the standing passenger and reversed just in time to avert an accident which might have proved disastrous.

Murder Over a Game of Cards.

DEWDROP, S. D., March 24.—Ed Thurlow was stabbed in the neck and instantly killed by Ed Carroll. The killing resulted from a quarrel over a friendly game of cards. Carroll escaped, and is now being pursued by a large posse. The murderer is only nineteen years of age, and the victim but three years his senior.

THE BOOKS CLOSED.

Changes Will Soon Be Made in the World's Fair Officers.

CHICAGO, March 24.—Thursday was the last day for the registration of world's fair proxies. Any stock not registered before the books were closed can not be voted at the annual election of exposition directors, which occurs on April 22.

Several directors who do not wish to uphold President Baker's administration have decided to combine their forces in the interest of Adla T. Ewing. It is their intention to elect him to the board of directors, and then, if possible, make him president. There are many reasons why Mr. Ewing would be a valuable man as president of the local board. He is thoroughly familiar with the world's fair work, being now a member of the national commission for Illinois and one of the strongest and most active members of that body.

Another thing is that he is a Democrat. Most of the important world's fair offices are held by Republicans and it is argued that it would be unwise to put in a Republican as president of the local board, especially as the exposition has financial favors to ask of a Democratic congress. Mr. Ewing is especially strong among the Democratic members of the house of representatives and would be able to wield considerable influence in securing financial aid for the fair.

President Baker's chances of re-election, once very strong, are rapidly weakening.

WAITING OR DEATH.

Strange Dreams of a Lawrenceburg (Ind.) Merchant.

LAWRENCEBURG, March 24.—E. F. Dobell, a well known furniture maker, is calmly awaiting death, which he expects to come next Monday. Mr. Dobell is a native of England and is about seventy-five years old.

He has dreamed on three successive nights that his death would come on the 28th of this month, and it has affected him to such an extent that he is convinced that he will die next Monday.

Accordingly he is arranging his business affairs, and says he will be ready when the time comes.

Mr. Dobell lives on Ridge avenue, and next Sunday night at midnight he will begin the watch for the grim messenger.

He will set up all night and all day Monday until midnight Monday night. If he passes this period without a visit from old Father Time, he believes he will live for some time yet.

A FEW FIGURES

Giving the Economic History of Indiana for 1891.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 24.—State Statistician Peele has compiled the economic statistics for the state for 1891, showing the expenses of the several counties and indebtedness of the same. The aggregate expenses for the year were $6,786,013, and the entire indebtedness $3,248,94. The report of circuit clerks include practically all the judicial circuits in the state and ninety of the ninety-two counties are represented in the tabular statement.

The grand totals show that 26,734 civil cases and 9,226 criminal cases, or a total of 36,002, were begun in 1891 in the courts of the state, making an average of about 400 cases to the county. In the same period there were 7,644 indictments returned, an average of seventy-eight to the county. A total of 7,848 executions and 1,899 foreclosure decrees were entered.

Strike Growing Serious.

DETROIT, March 24.—The strike in the shipyards is growing serious. At the Clark dry dock, in Springwell, yesterday morning the situation was quiet and all the calkers and carpenters were at work. Shortly after going to work, however, Superintendent Pech asked three or four calkers to go to the upper dock and do some work. This the men refused to do, and they were immediately discharged. Nine of the carpenters at work, also calkers, were then put to calking, and at noon they were also told to go to the upper dry dock to work. They refused, and at noon all those doing calking quit work. There is plenty of unfinished work in the yards and the men present a bold front.

White Capping to Be Explained.

ENGLISH, Ind., March 24.—The Underhill White Capping is to be explained. Lewis Faulkenburg has confessed, and his confession implicates many. He will never recover from his wounds. Underhill is in bed, ill of blood poisoning, caused by shots in his body, received at the time of the assault. The confession has not been made public, but it is understood that it implicates persons charged with White Capping offenses five years ago. Otto Faulkenburg, a cousin of the injured Faulkenburg, is the ringleader.

Defended by the Police.

LONDON, March 24.—The engine men at the Hepburn colliery, Durham, were guarded to the pumps by a large force of police yesterday. Several of the strikers who stoned the engine men and broke the windows of their houses have been arrested. All the engine men are provided with arms to defend themselves in case of necessity. The strikers are anxious to have the pumps stopped so that the owners may be compelled to make terms through fear of damage to the mine.

Steamboat Captain Drowned.

MADISON, Ind., March 24.—Captain John Chateline, aged fifty-five, dropped dead at his home last night in Vevay. He owned Vevay Island and built and owned the steamers Randolph, B. F. Duvall and Maggie Bell. He leaves a wife and grown daughter.

The Crown Sheet Blew Off.

UTICA, N. Y., March 24.—The crown sheet of the boiler of a locomotive on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroad exploded yesterday near this place and fatally scalded Fireman F. L. Racine and the engineer.
